A Diplomatic Reply.

An eastern potentate once asked a group of his courtiers which they thought the greater man, himself or his father. At first he could elicit no reply to so dangerous a question. At last a wily old courtier said, "Your father, sire, for, though you are equal to your father in all other respects, in this he is superior to you, that he had a greater son than any you have." He was promoted on the spot.

THE DOG'S COLD NOSE.

Its Origin, According to the Log Book of Noah's Ark.

"The true story of the dog's cold nose has been handed down to us sailors from the log book of the ark," says a sailor in the New York Times. "Mrs. Noah went down one morning to the potato bin in the lower hold for the vegetables required for the noonday meal. Her favorite collie dog, Nip, followed her, as was his daily custom. While Mrs. Noah was sorting out the tubers the ark collided with a small snag, which punctured a small hole in her side close to where the lady stood. Seeing that immediate action was necessary, she took off her woolen petticoat and apron and stuffed them into the hole, but the pressure of the water forced the things out, and so she put them back again and sat on them, calling loudly for assistance. But no one seemed to hear her, as the animals were making such a noise. In her position she leaned back so that the backs of her arms were pressed up against the cold sides of the vessel; hence the backs of women's arms are always cold. The water was coming in fast, and she began to fear for the safety of the ark, so she jumped up and, grabbing Nip, put his nose into the hole and bade him stay there until she went to the fore hatch and shouted for help. A carpenter's mate heard her and came down into the hold with a soft pine plug, released poor Nip and stopped the leak. The water outside was very cold, and Nip got a cold nose, and hence all healthy dogs have a cold nose."

If a Cow gave Butter

mankind would have to invent milk. Milk is Nature's emulsion—butter put in shape for digestion. Cod liver oil is extremely nourishing, but it has to be emulsified before we can digest it.

Scott's Emulsion

combines the best oil with the valuable hypophosphites so that it is easy to digest and does far more good than the oil alone could. That makes Scott's Emulsion the most strengthening, nourishing food-medicine in the world.

COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Saturday, February 4, 1905.

D. E. O'KEEFE.....EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

The Russian peasant is unquestionably slow, but, like inertia, may be hard to stop when once set in motion.

The idea of electing United States Senators by a direct vote of the people is losing no ground in California.

Russell Sage says every man ought to save one-quarter of his income. Mr. Sage, it is understood, saves the other three-quarters.

A woman in Kansas City hid $500 in a home-made bustle and lost the bustle. Curious and interesting things like this happen in Kansas City every day.

Even their limited experience has demonstrated to the Cubans that immunity from dirt and disease is a greater blessing than absolute independence of government.

Byron may be a little out of fashion, but it was he who wrote: "For freedom's battle once begun, bequeath'd by bleeding sire to son, though baffled oft, is ever won."

Government ownership of railroads may never be brought about, but it is time to prove the negative proposition that there shall be no railroad ownership of the government.

A Rhode Island girl who loves a man of the name of Bumgardiner refuses to be his wife until he gets the Legislature to relieve him of the "Bum." Here again we see the far-reaching influence of slang.

The Senate, it is hoped, will probe the recent scandal to the bottom and let no guilty one go unpunished. If those who are charged with receiving bribes are found guilty they should be meted out just punishment.

The Merchants' Exchange of San Francisco is urging the passage of three bills, designed to further safeguard the ballot. One bill provides that no person who may have infringed the purity of election laws shall be excused from testifying at any trial or investigation through the excuse that his testimony might incriminate himself. The second will extend to the primary law every measure now in force that is designed to guard general elections. The third bill merely repeals Section 64 of the Penal Code, on the ground that it is inconsistent with other well-defined and desirable laws.

CITY COUNCIL.

Christian Froelich Receives the Big City Improvement Contract.

The first pig contract in the improvements planned by the City Council was awarded Monday night when the Council accepted the bid of Christian Froelich of San Francisco to furnish the pipe for the water mains.

Two complete bids were received as follows:

Crane & Co.....$19,989.43
Christian Froelich.....19,929.45

W. T. Garratt & Co. offered to supply seventy-five hydraunts at $23 each, and Hull Brothers bid $30.10 on those fixtures, but both bids were higher than the figures submitted by either of the first-named firms and were not considered. Two other city firms — the Martin Pipe Company and Byron Jackson—sent communications to the effect that on account of failure to hear from Eastern houses they were unable at that time to submit estimates.

After a careful consideration of the bids, on motion of Walker, seconded by Foley, the contract was awarded to Christian Froelich. His bid was $59.98 less than that of Crane & Co.

The chairman was authorized to enter into contract with the successful firm, and the shipment of the goods is to commence within thirty days, and is to be completed within sixty days. It was agreed that 75 per cent of the value of each shipment is to be paid on delivery and balance when pipe is tested and found according to specifications.

AMUSEMENTS.

"MOTHER GOOSE"

THE MIGHTEST OF ALL BEAUTY SPECTACLES AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Next Monday at the Grand Opera House, San Francisco, will be presented the first of the great English Drury Lane spectacles ever seen in this portion of the country, "Mother Goose." Klaw & Erlanger, proprietors of "Ben Hur," which created such a sensation in San Francisco last season. "Mother Goose" is even a larger organization and a grander spectacle from the viewpoint of magnificent scenic appointment and stage beauty than "Ben Hur," but deals with an entirely different class of entertainment.

"A notable event" has become a stereotyped expression in announcing theatrical productions, but the massiveness, magnitude and awe-inspiring beauty of this greatest latter day achievements fully justifies the expression.

Nothing in its class, or of its dazzling beauty, has ever been seen in any stage production. It embodies all forms of entertainment, from the romantic to the highly farcical. Ballets, processions, marches, comedians, singers, pantomimists and specialists, with legions of beautiful femininity gorgeously costumed, are constantly in evidence.

"Mother Goose" will not be seen in any other city of the West outside of San Ffancisco, and will be presented for only four weeks at the Grand Opera House, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday of each week. During this engagement the curtain will rise at evening performances, including Sundays, at 8 o'clock promptly, and at the matinees at 2. The sale of seats will begin Thursday morning, February 2. Mail orders, accompanied by remittances, addressed to H. H. Campbell, Grand Opera House, will receive prompt attention.

Throughout the first week of the engagement, railroad excursions will be run from all points at special reduced rates, in order to allow out-of-town patrons to witness this performance.

"A FIGHT FOR MILLIONS"

AT THE CENTRAL THEATRE, 8TH AND MARKET, SAN FRANCISCO.

Beginning next Monday night a new melodrama called "A Fight for Millions" will be produced at the Central Theatre with an elaborate display of scenic embellishments and a splendid cast. The theme of the play pivots on a young inventor's devotion for a girl who is socially above him. But like all true Americans he has indomitable courage and grit and determins in the face of adversity to win out. Just at the time when fortune seems to smile on his efforts he is accused of a foul crime at the instigation of the villain, is thrown in prison and is sentenced to be killed by electrocution. It is then that the most unique and startling innovation of stragedom is brought into play and a rescue is made in a manner that will send a thrill through every one of the auditors. A full-sized submarine boat patterned after the type of those used in the various governments of the world is used to make the escape. The entire stage is made to represent the bottom of the sea, and through the waters the demon of the ocean ploughs with its load of passengers to a point of safety. A landing is made on an island, the home of the young inventor where he has for months been at work on a wireless telegraph. Fate is again adverse, for just as he is about to put in practice the theories that have absorbed his attention for months the villain makes his appearance and causes the young fellows recapture, but at that moment come the finale—one of the greatest climaxes that has ever been seen on any stage. A steamer at sea has the real culprit on board, the hero connects with the steamer and back flashes the words of vindication that makes all well. Juliet Crosby, Herschel, Mayall, and the entire Central Theatre Stock Company will be cast in the play and a performance far above the ordinary way be looked forward to.

"MIZPAH, the STORY OF ESTHER"

AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE, SAN FRANCISCO.

The wishes of the many thousands of theatre-goers will find gratification in the announcement that commencing Monday, February 6th. "Mizpah, the story of Esther," the magnificent and heart-appealing poetical drama by Ella Wheeler Wilcox and Luscombe Searelle again goes on the programme of H. W. Bishop's Majestic Theatre. The reproduction is made under the personal supervision of Ella Wheeler Wilcox who has come across the continent to take a direct interest in the drama which as its joint author places her in the foremost rank of the great dramatists of the day. "Mizpah" struck a note with the playgoers of this city as no other attraction presented here has ever done. In the one week of its production at Mr. Bishop's playhouse it became the almost sole topic of conversation and its fascinations were so great that many attended sevesal performances. Considering that it was a premiere and that it contained many little defects which have since been rectified its grasp upon play-goers was little short of the marvelous and under present conditions it will undoubtedly carry the town by storm. The cast with one exception will be the same as that which gave to the play its first interpretation. J. H. Gilmour appears in the role of Ashuerus and Adele Block has been specially retained to again act the part of Esther.

Chatham vs. Mansfield.

The attorneys in the Chatham-Mansfield suit spent several days this week examining the ballots ojected to and thrown out by both sides during the trial. Within the past few months the Supreme Court has rendered decisions which bear upon many of the ballots of this case, making it unnecessary to submit them to the upper Court. Those ballots will not be included in the appeal, which will simplify the case and permit of an earlier decision. There were 900 ballots, which number was reduced about one-half.

A number of ladies met at the home of Mrs. M. S. Cooper, Thursday afternoon, and formed a ladies' euchre club. They will meet twice a month, on Thursday afternoons, and will contest for a prize at each meeting.

Many deaths are caused by swallowing pins while laughing, so be careful and don't swallow any of the points so cleverly brought out in E. J. Carpenter's mammoth production of "A Little Outcast," Sunday, February 5th.

The basket ball game in the gymnasium between Palo Alto and Sequoia is public. A private dance will afterward be given the Palo Alto boys after the game by the Sequoia team of girls.

Mr. and Mrs. John Diehlman Jr. left for San Francisco Wednesday to make their home. Mr. Diehlman is employed by the California Powder Company in their San Francisco office. He has been making the trip between here and the city daily, but has concluded to live nearer his work.

Miss May Leiter and Miss Edith Kelley both of Oakland were the guests of Miss Mildred Smith the latter part of last week. On Sunday Miss Leiter left for Oakland and on Monday Miss Kelley went to Arroyo Grande, San Luis Obispo County, where she will open her school for the coming year.

The open season for killing quail and ducks will close on February 15th. Hunters claim it was the best season in years and that more birds were killed than in any previous season for the past six years. No doubt the strict enforcement of the game laws by game wardens had much to do with this agreeable condition of affairs.

Miss Dorothy Kimball, assisted by her pupils, will give a musicale in Odd Fellows Hall on Friday evening, February 10th. Over 100 invitations have been issued. The pupils who will take part are as follows: Sophie Mengels, Iva Moore, Gertrude Moore, I. Beer, Norma Jacobus, Henry Mengels, Minnard Granger, Joseph Ross.

Mr. Perry has a large practice, and Mr. Johnson will get a great fund of experience while with Mr. Perry. His many friends here wish him success in his new position.

Bay View Lodge, I. O. O. F., initiated several candidates Wednesday night, and after the meeting participated in a general good time in honor of the occasion. Tables were spread and a good old-fashioned clam supper was enjoyed. Speeches were made by the incoming members and by several of the war horses of the order. The meeting adjourned at 12 o'clock. Bay View Lodge is now looking up, and many new members are being added.

J. S. Haughey of Eureka, an organizer for the Women of Woodcraft, gave a stereoptican and moving picture entertainment in the Odd Fellows' Hall Thursday night. Mr. Haughey explained the workings of the order and its objects and also made interesting comments on the pictures. The local lodge of Women of the Woodcraft is in a flourishing condition and the members are constantly on the lookout for recruits.

While debating at the Freshman-Sophomore debate at Stanford, last Saturday night, Gerald Halsey, who was second speaker of the Freshman class, was suddenly stricken with acute cramps and was unable to go on with his speech. Dr. Snow, who was present, took charge of Mr. Halsey and after some time relieved him. The attack, it is thought, was brought on by eating some canned corn at Palo Alto that evening. Several who were present say that Mr. Halsey's argument, until he was compelled to stop, was the best of the evening.

Father White, for a little over a year pastor of the Catholic church, will relinquish his charge on February 13th. The former pastor, Father John Conlin, will resume his duties. Father White has made many friends while here, and by his great zeal and untiring work has endeared himself to the people of Redwood City, who are loath to see him go. Father Conlin, whose health has improved, comes back with renewed energy to do the Master's work. He has a host of friends who will be glad to welcome him home.

"You can't fool all the people all the time but you can certainly please all the people most of the time if you keep at it and that is what I am doing in 'A Little Outcast'", says Manager E. J. Carpenter. That Mr. Carpenter's theory is true was demonstrated by the success of his production which has been the biggest money maker out for the past two seasons and that he means to keep up the standard of excellence is evident from the elaborate production which he has sent out this year and which will be seen at the Alhambra Theatre next Sunday, February 5th. The scenery and cast excel anything in its class on the road.

On February 6th the Southern Pacific Railroad Co. will issue tickets to Los Angeles and return for $15. Tickets will be honored on all returning trains up to and including February 21st. An Interesting Suit.

An interesting suit now pending in the Superior Court is that of Holder vs. Cottam to quiet title to certain property. In 1851 Joseph Holder came to Redwood City and built a warehouse by the creek where lumber could be stored while awaiting shipment. For a number of months Mr. Holder was the only man living in Redwood. He was joined about 1852 by a friend named Cottam whom he had known in Australia and the two formed a partnership. While doing business they incidentally took up some land which they held jointly. Some few years later Mr. Cottam sold all his interests to his partner and left for the Frazer River with a party of fortune hunters, among whom was Peter Brown of this place. While there Cottam died. Mr. Holder desiring to sell a piece of property recently, found that he could not do so as the title stood in the name of Holder & Cottam; he has bronght suit to have it changed to his name. Mr. Brown is the only living witness to the fact of Cottam's death.

Fell Seventy Feet.

Harry Griffith, a young Englishman who has been employed on the new courthouse for the past couple of weeks as a carpenter, fell seventy feet through the elevator shaft Thursday, and miraculously escaped with his life. Griffith was at work on the top of the shaft just after the noon hour, when the plank on which he was standing broke and he was plunged downward to what, to those who saw the accident, thought instant death. When he was about six feet from the ground he struck a stringer with his right leg, and this broke the fall. As it was his leg was badly broken above and below the knee. Dr. Ross was immediately called and the unfortunate man was given prompt attention.

He was then removed to the Redwood City House where Drs. Ross and Barrett set the fractures, and was later sent to Waldeck Sanitarium, San Francisco.

This is the first accident which has happened in the building of the courthouse, and it very fortunate that it did not terminate fatally. Dr. Ross says that Mr. Griffith will be able to be about again in a few weeks.

Operated on for Appendicitis.

Esther, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Durham, was taken ill with appendicitis during the week and became so seriously ill that it was found necessary to summons Dr. Sommers, the famous specialist from Lane's Hospital. On his arrival the little patient's condition was found to be so critical that an immediate operation was decided upon. During the removal of the appendix a tumorous growth was found on one of the organs and was removed. The operation was successful and barring complications, Miss Esther will soon be about again.

A HOME WEDDING.

Mr. Charles Hayden Weds Miss Maude Beeson on Wednesday.

Miss Maude Beeson, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beeson, was married Wednesday afternoon at the residence of her parents to Mr. Charles Hayden of San Francisco. Rev. C. C. Kirtland officiated at the ceremony and Miss Hetty Allen and Willis Beeson, cousin and brother of the bride assisted. They left on the evening train for their wedding trip on the return from which they will make their home in the city. Mrs. Hayden is a charming young lady and is known by everyone in this section. She is a graduate of the local schools and has many accomplishments. Mr. Hayden is a commission merchant of San Francisco and is a substantial business man. Though they had intended to surprise their friends a number learned of this affair and were on hand at the depot to shower the happy couple with rice and good wishes.

RECLAIMING MARSH LAND.

The Opinion of a Wealthy Enthusiast on Marsh Land Here.

There is great activity on the water front. This week two large dredgers belonging to Mr. Peabody are at work throwing up large quantities of dirt on the Whitney and Matthews districts.

P. W. Mathews, a wealthy landowner of Eureka, was here Thursday looking over his property, consisting of 1200 acres of marsh land that he is reclaiming. Mr. Mathews is one of the best posted men on this kind of property on the Pacific Coast. He is very enthusiastic about the marsh land lying between Redwood City and San Francisco. He says the people do not realize its great value. It is without doubt the best in the State, more productive and capable of great development. It is peculiarly adapted for dairying purposes. The grasses grown on it are rich and the butter produced is of a fine flavor bringing the best prices in the market. The nearness of the lands to San Francisco adds to their value very materially. Mr. Mathews is one of the largest property-owners in Humboldt County but does not hesitate to say that Redwood City is very fortunate in having these valuable lands lying at its door. When it is all reclaimed Redwood City will then realize their worth.

Married at San Jose.

Miss Meta Paulsen, third daughter of Paul Paulsen, was united in marriage Saturday to William Peterson of Oakland. The ceremony was performed in San Jose at the First Presbyterian church by the Rev. Francis Palmer. Mrs. Peterson has not been in Redwood much of late years but is well remembered by her old schoolmates. Mr. Peterson is at present employed at the car shops in Oakland but contemplates making his home at Denver where he formerly resided. Part of the wedding trip was spent in Redwood with Mrs. Peterson's father.

The Executors Resign.

Victor S. Howard and R. M. Digges have resigned as executors of the estate of R. M. Digges, deceased. This was done at the suggestion of Judge Buck who thought the executors did not give proper attention to the probating of the estate which has been on the calendar for several years. Hereafter James Crowe will have charge of the estate and will wind up its affairs and bring it to a speedy termination. The real property of the estate is located on the coast and is considered valuable.

A Large Shipment of Hides.

The largest shipment of hides ever made by the Frank Tanning Company was made last week when 10,000 sides of sole leather were shipped to Japan. This is an immense shipment and has occasioned much overtime at the shop. The Frank Tannery without doubt turns out as fine a grade of leather as is tanned anywhere in the United States, and the orders they receive from foreign countries show that they are also well-known abroad. Besides this large shipment another big order was filled but a short time ago.

Death of a Pioneer.

Mrs. Sarah P. Douglass, wife of W. H. Douglass, one of the oldest pioneers of Redwood City, passed away in Palo Alto Wednesday night at the home of her son George. Mrs. Douglass was a native of Ontario County, N. Y., aged 69 years. In 1850 she crossed the plains with her husband to whom she had just been married. She arrived in Redwood in the spring of 1851 and stayed a few days, there being only two houses here at the time. She then went to Mountain View where she remained for four years when her husband moved to Woodside engaging in his trade as a shoemaker. The family remained in Woodside until 1860 when they came to Redwood City where they remained until about four years ago, when Mr. and Mrs. Douglass went to Palo Alto to make their home with their children. Besides her husband, who is in very feeble health, she leaves to mourn her death four children, William and George Douglass, Mrs. Milham of San Jose and Mrs. Morris of Palo Alto, and a number of grandchildren. The deceased was an upright Christian woman and much beloved by all who knew her. The funeral will be held from the Redwood City Methodist Episcopal church this morning at 11 o'clock. PROPOSED RAILROAD LINE.

A Scheme For Bridging the Bay at Dumbarton Point.

Another important railroad scheme, says the San Jose Herald, is now in course of preparation by the California Central Railroad Company. This company proposes to build a road from Newark to Dumbarton Point and thence by bridge across the bay at Ravenswood to San Mateo, on the coast division.

This branch would undoubtedly play an important part in the handling of business east and west bound from and to the Santa Clara Valley and the country south. All traffic of this territory is now handled either through San Francisco or via the broad gauge line between San Jose and Oakland on the east side of the bay.

The California Central railroad is a proposed Southern Pacific branch line, and the proposed cut-off would undoubtedly help the moving of freight from San Jose and the entire valley.

The company has not yet asked the War Department for permission to build a trestle bridge, with a draw, across the upper portion of the bay opposite Ravenswood, but is preparing to do so. It does not expect the opposition recently encountered against its proposition to build a trestle bridge across the straits of Carquinez because of the comparatively small number of vessels traversing the upper part of the bay.

Installation of Officers.

District Deputy Grand Patriarch K. K. Neilson, assisted by Grand Warden C. J. Bettin installed the officers-elect for the coming term in Hope Encampment No. 30, I. O. O. F., Tuesday night. Those who will guide the destinies of the Encampment for the coming six months are: C. P., E. B. Fox; S. W., A. H. Jimison; J. W., T. C. Rice; H. P., Wm. Headley; G., C. J. Bettin; Scribe, J. J. Glennon; G. of T., B. F. Cooper; F. of T., J. M. Christ.

The Little Outcast.

E. J. Carpenter's great production, "A Little Outcast," which has been the great record-breaker of the past two years, has begun its third season in a blaze of glory and will be seen at the Alhambra Theatre next Sunday night, February 5th. Not content with having reached the top notch of perfection in a scenic way, Mr. Carpenter has gone a step farther than his fellow managers and has secured the most expensive cast in a melodramatic production. Prices: general admission, 35 cents; reserved seats, 50 cents; children, 25 cents. Seats now on sale.

Killed by a Locomotive.

Charles Clemens, an aged gardener, was struck by train No. 38 which leaves San Francisco at 11:30, Sunday, just opposite Lomita Park station. The unfortunate man was walking down the track and did not hear the whistle. He was struck by the engine and thrown across the track and cut completely in half. The remains were taken to Millbrae where an inquest was held. The deceased was a native of Ireland, aged 70 years.

Case Set For Trial.

G. Petrochi, charged with an assault committed at South San Francisco some time ago, pleaded not guilty in the Superior Court Thursday. The trial of his case was set for February 15th. He is defended by attorney De Martini of San Francisco.

Half the things people say are regretted later.

WHO OWNS THE BRIDGE?

The Stanford Bridge Is in Need of Repair and Is a Menace to Life.

A dispute between San Mateo and Santa Clara counties over the ownership of the "Stanford bridge", which is located near the old stock farm, crossing San Francisquito creek, has placed the lives of all those who daily cross the structure in danger.

The bridge was built by the late Senator Stanford, and with that portion of the county road now running around the rear of the university was presented to Santa Clara and San Mateo counties upon condition that they would close that portion of the then existing county road which ran through what is now the Stanford University campus. Santa Clara County accepted the gift, closed the road and has always kept their half of the bridge in repair. The San Mateo County Supervisors, however, refused to accept the bridge and have never taken any steps to keep their portion of the structure in repair. The result is that the bridge is now so badly decayed that it has become a menace to the traveling public.

A number of Stanford professors and others interested in the University have recently purchased considerable property in San Mateo County, depending upon the Stanford bridge to gain easy access to the University campus. The stand taken by the San Mateo solons is causing them great anxiety and they are reported to be considering a proposition to unload their holdings should the two counties fail to get together and rebuild the bridge.

At a recent meeting of the San Mateo Supervisors the matter was taken under consideration and is now being investigated.—San Jose Mercury.

The Supervisors of this county are willing and ready to act in the matter when the solons of Santa Clara County make known their wishes. Mr. MacBain in whose district the joint bridge is, has investigated the bridge in question and will make a report on its condition to the Board of Supervisors next Monday.

PRIZES FOR THE BALL.

Great Variety of Things Given For the Firemen's Masquerade.

And still the prizes keep a-coming for the firemen's masquerade in such numbers that nearly all who attend will get either a door or a character prize. Among the latest offerings is that of Dr. Stineman, who will extract one tooth free, and a traveling chiropodist who remove a corn from the foot of the lucky holder of a certain numbered ticket.

Never in the history of the town has so much interest been taken in a coming event as is being manifested in this ball. If all expectations are fulfilled the Alhambra will hardly be large enough to accommodate all who attend.

Following is a list of the prizes offered up to date:

One bottle Herbolo, Mrs. Rose Jamieson.

Thoroughbred coach dog pup, James Crook.

Suckling pig, A. Miramontes.

Extracting one tooth, Dr. Stineman.

Extracting one corn, James Sweeney.

MENLO PARK OCCURRENCES

Paragraphs, Personal and Otherwise, From the Village of Beautiful Homes.

The Old Menlo Park Gate Falls a Victim to the Elements. Rock Instead of Gravel.

A petition has been in circulation for signatures this week and will be presented to the Supervisors Monday, asking that gates be put up on the crossing on Oak Grove avenue near the Menlo Park Hotel and on the crossing on Ravenswood avenue adjoining the property of Timothy Hopkins. The petition will be referred by the Board to the District Attorney who will take the matter up with the railroad company. The gates are much needed and it is to be hoped the company will see its way clear to put them up, thus affording protection to the traveling public. The crossings referred to are the most dangerous of any in the county, the view being shut off by obstructions on all sides.

The old Menlo Park gate that was erected in August, 1854, recently succumbed to the storms of many winters and toppled and fell. A committee from Menlo Parlor, N. S. G. W., composed of Frank and James Andrews, John Bracesco and George Fromhertz, put the gate in position. The old relic that binds the present with the past is sadly in need of permanent repairs, and unless something is done it will soon be a thing of the past and will exist only in memory. The Native Sons have made an effort to raise funds to preserve the gate, but met with little success.

The "Menlo Heights" tract at the beginning of the foothills, consisting of over 350 large lots, was sold last week by A. W. Bell of Palo Alto, and he now has it for sale again in lots as may be desired and on very easy payments—$5 per month per lot. Most of these lots are nearer Menlo and the University than the lots purchased by the University professors, being one and one-half miles from either. The Alameda de Las Pulgas, the first through road west of Menlo, runs through this tract. The Hale Electric Road has planned to run along this road via Redwood and San Mateo to San Francisco.

A man in a neighboring town who secured his wife through a matrimonial agency is trying to secure a divorce. Just another instance of finding that mail order bargains are not just as represented and that a much better grade of the same article could have been obtained at home. Good enough for him; he ought to patronize home industry. The home grown article is usually the best.

Supervisor MacBain is soon to put up a rock-crusher on one of the hills near the Bear Gulch lake and establish a large quarry there. He intends to use crushed rock instead of gravel on all the roads in this vicinity. This material is cheaper and gives much better service. The gravel is now owned by a few and fancy prices are asked for it.

W. J. Palethorpe, who has come into prominence lately as an expert for the San Francisco Grand Jury is exporting the books of the Continental Building and Loan Association, resided in the Parker cottage here last summer. He formerly was a professor at Brewer's Academy, San Mateo.

A valuable horse belonging to Thomas Tulte was killed on the track near the freight depot early Thursday morning by one of the local passenger trains. The animal broke away from the stable to the rear of Mr. Tulte's meat market and strayed to the railroad track where it met its tragic death.

Elmer Tennant removed to San Francisco on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Tennant made many friends while here and they carry with them the best wishes of all. The Lenehan cottage which they occupied has been rented by Mr. Bridgewater.

Thomas B. Sullivan, news editor of the San Francisco Call, has leased the Fitzgerald cottage on Oak Grove avenue, vacated by James Gallagher. Mr. Sullivan owns property in the Mills tract, on which he will erect a handsome home some time during the coming summer.

T. P. Andrews, foreman of the San Francisco grand jury, who is conducting a strenuous campaign against the grafters of the Schmitz administration, is a son-in-law of J. K. Prior, and spends his summers here. He married Miss Tillie Prior some years ago.

A little girl all the way from babyland came Thursday morning to thrice bless the happy home of Mr. and Mrs. James Rapley. The proud father says the little miss is destined to be the future reigning belle of Fair Oaks society.

Contractor Murray has commenced the erection of a Chinese store in the Dominga tract near the railroad for a big San Francisco firm of Chinese. An intelligence office will be added to the concern.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith died last Sunday. The child has been an invalid since birth. The funeral took place Monday and the body was interred in Holy Cross Cemetery.

John McGreavy and Thomas Butler, who have lived here for the past year, have moved to Mayfield and are guests of the Mayfield Hotel, recently purchased by Toney Boecker.

Charles A. Mosher, the well known Palo Alto contractor, has leased a lot facing on Railroad avenue from James G. Mason, on which he will build a shop and launch into the contracting business.

The St. Patrick's Day celebration in Menlo this year will be held under the auspices of the Gaelic League. Preparations for the event are already under way.

T. J. Griffin's bible class grows weekly. The boys and young men in attendance are enthusiastic over the professor's learned and entertaining disquisitions.

Joseph Arata, who has been furnishing vegetables here from Mountain View for years, has sold his business to his brother, John Arata.

William Long of Millbrae has been appointed section foreman here in place of James Gallagher who has taken the Sunnyvale section.

It is rumored that Chairman Kelly of last year's picnic committee is about to reorganize that body in the near future.

A girl baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Bonafant on the 24th inst.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street,
ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1908.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

THE INFERNAL REGIONS.

How They Are Depicted In Buddhism and Islamism.

The infernal regions of Buddhism are horrible. They comprise a great hell and 136 lesser hells. In these hells, according to the sculptures of the Buddhist temples, men are ground to powder and their dust turned into ants and fleas and spiders. They are pestled in a mortar. The hungry eat redhot iron balls. The thirsty drink molten iron.

Islamism says of the infernal regions: "They who believe not shall have garments of fire fitted for them. Boiling water shall be poured on their heads and on their skins, and they shall be beaten with maces of iron."

In the Scandinavian mythology, the mythology of Odin and Thor, we are told that "In Nastrond there is a vast and direful structure, with doors that face the north. It is formed entirely of the backs of serpents, wattled together like wickerwork. But the serpents' heads are turned toward the inside of the hall, and they continually send forth floods of venom, in which wade all those who commit murder or forswear themselves."

In the past Christian clergymen loved to describe hell. The present tendency, however, is to avoid discussion of this place—to dwell upon the gentler and more lovely side of Christianity.—Exchange.

Napoleon's Outrider.

Wernet, Napoleon's outrider, once saved his emperor's life. It was after the abdication of Fontainebleau and when Wernet drove Napoleon away from the palace that he received from a peasant information of a plot to fire on the coach as it passed through the forest. The outrider, representing that there was an obstruction on the road, persuaded the emperor to leave the coach and ride around in another direction, while he brought the carriage as best he could to meet him. This was done, and Wernet encountered a furious fusillade, which, however, left him unscathed, as it was directed not at the box, but at the interior of the empty vehicle. Wernet lived to be outrider to Louis Philippe.—Westminster Gazette.

The Corset In 2000 B. C.

Mr. [illegible] Evans, the Oxford archaeologist who made so many interesting discoveries in the so called palace of Minos, in Crete, found in a subterranean sanctuary certain very ancient small earthenware statues, representing some goddess and two of her servants. The dress of the figures is highly modern. The goddess, we grieve to say, wears a corset—just such a corset as contemporary man shyly wonders at in the windows of a department store.—Everybody's.

A Japanese Peculiarity.

"When a Japanese servant is rebuked or scolded," says a traveler, "he must smile like a Cheshire cat. The etiquette in smiles is very misleading at first. I often used to think that Taki, my riksha 'boy,' meant to be impertinent when he insisted on smiling when I was angry at him. But when he told me of the death of his little child with a burst of laughter I knew that this was only one of the curious details of etiquette in this topsy turvy land."

No Encouragement For Him.

"So she refused you? Well, didn't she give you any encouragement at all?"

"No, not a bit. She told me that before she'd consider the matter again I'd have to get a job and prove that I had it in me to support a family."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The First Quarrel.

Greene—My wife and I quarreled last night for the first time in years. Browne—What about? Greene—She thought the reason we had never done so before was due to her generous nature, and I thought it was mine.

ANIMAL ANTIPATHIES.

The Fear Horses Have of Camels and Cattle of Dogs.

"In some towns they won't let us show," said the circus animal trainer, "unless we have no camels with us. Camels are a serious drawback to shows. Horses are so much afraid of them that lots of towns won't let a camel enter their gates.

"A horse won't go near a piece of ground a camel has stood on. The very smell of a camel in the air will make a horse tremble and sweat, and this fear isn't only found occasionally in a horse here and there. It is found in every horse all over the world. Queer, isn't it? I often wonder why it is. Cattle hate dogs in the same way, and cats hate dogs so too. Here, though, we can account for the hatred. Dogs in primitive times fed on cattle, no doubt, and even today here and there they kill and feed on kittens.

"Horses love dogs. I'm sure I don't know why. Dogs fear no animals but pumas and leopards. You can take a dog up to a lion's or a tiger's cage, and he will show no fear, but take him up to the cage of a puma or a leopard and he will tremble and moan and slink away out of sight.

"All very puzzling, isn't it?"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

TWO GREAT LEADERS.

Disraeli and Gladstone and Their Enmity Toward Each Other.

Disraeli wit was too much for Gladstone. The great Liberal had but one adjective for his Tory opponent, and that was "devilish." Never during the years of their opposing leadership had the two any social relations. Each made light of the other's literary efforts. Some one asked Lord Beaconsfield to define the difference between a misfortune and a calamity, and unhesitatingly it came. "If Mr. Gladstone should fall into the Thames, it would be a misfortune. If any one should pull him out, it would be a calamity."

The best of all the Gladstone-Disraeli stories tells how once at a London dinner party the ladies at the table were asked which they would marry if they had to marry one or the other, the great Liberal or the great Tory. All declared promptly in favor of Beaconsfield save one, who hastened to explain that she had rather wed Gladstone that she might elope with Disraeli and so break her husband's heart. This happening was of course retold to Disraeli, and so pleased was he over it that he suspended a cabinet debate on the chances of a continental war in order to relate it.—Warwick James Price in Criterion.

THE BIG DIPPER.

It Is the Hour Hand of the Woodman's Celestial Clock.

The pole star is really the most important of the stars in our sky. It marks the north at all times. It alone is fixed in the heavens. All the other stars seem to swing around it once in twenty-four hours.

But the pole star of Polaris is not a very bright one, and it would be hard to identify but for the help of the so called pointers in the "Big Dipper," or "Great Bear." The outer rim of the dipper points nearly to Polaris, at a distance equal to three times the space that separates the two stars of the dipper's outer side. Various Indians called the pole star the "Home Star" and the "Star That Never Moves," and the dipper they call the "Broken Back." The "Great Bear" is also to be remembered as the pointers for another reason. It is the hour hand of the woodman's clock. It goes once around the North star in about twenty-four hours, the reverse way of the hands of a watch—that is, it goes the same way as the sun—and for the same reason—that it is the earth that is going and leaving them behind.—Country Life In America.

Do Bargain Hunters Smile?

"I went out shopping the other afternoon," said a well known pastor of New York city, "and, having in mind the hymn 'Brighten Your Way With a Smile,' I looked about to see if there were any smiles on the faces in the big department store.

"In all that hurrying and pushing and worrying real, genuine, hearty smiles were not to be found. I saw one smile, but it looked like a plant that had been wintered in a cellar. It was bleached and wan."—New York Press.

The Way a Benedict Looked at It.

Mrs. Benham—I don't believe a word of your excuse, Benham—That's just like a woman. I don't suppose Jonah's wife believed the story he told her after he had spent three nights with the whale. Mrs. Benham—How do you know Jonah had a wife? Benham—He wouldn't have been a Jonah if he had not been married.—Brooklyn Life.

A Sickener.

"Some people," growled Crabbe, "make me sick."

"I should think nearly everybody would make you sick," replied Cutting.

"Indeed! Why?"

"Reciprocity, you know."—Philadelphia Press.

Made the Parrot the Scapegoat.

Father—What did the teacher say when she heard you swear? Small Boy—She asked me where I learned it. Father—What did you tell her? Boy—I didn't want to give you away, pa, so I blamed it on the parrot.—Detroit Free Press.

No Evidence to the Contrary.

Friend—I think her mother is a sensible woman. The Lover—Well—a—I don't think she likes me. Friend—Oh, I merely said she was a sensible woman!

Not So Bad For Him.

"Yes, I used to be in the insurance business. I once got a man to take out a $50,000 policy only about a week before he happened to be killed. He was a mighty hard chap to land too. I had to talk to him for nearly six months before I got him."

"That was tough on the company. I suppose you regretted after it was all over that your persuasive powers were so good."

"Um—no, I never felt sorry about it. I married the widow."—Chicago Record-Herald.
